

ALFI Roadshow to Frankfurt

On 27 June 2022 ALFI (Association of the Luxembourg Fund Industry) organised a conference on investment opportunities in Luxembourg. One of the not-so-secret recipes for the Grand Duchy's success is its ability to anticipate change. The conference investigated how old and new market players can benefit from this forward-looking expertise?

Counsel Thomas Göricke was a speaker in a workshop on sustainable investing in practice. To be truly sustainable one needs to plan further ahead than what will be tomorrow. To be ready for the future, the mutual fund industry needs to position itself properly now. Is regulation an opportunity or a barrier? Which ESG rules apply to what end, and what role does the availability of relevant data play? What do investors really want and what does this mean for the distribution of sustainable funds?
