

Electronic signatures: Legal and technical overview

On May 19, IFE Luxembourg organised a practical session on electronic signatures. The webinar presented current electronic handwritten signature uses and solutions, technical principles, legal value as well as the current and future benefits of electronic signatures.

Partner Gary Cywie held a session entitled From theory to practice. Besides defining what qualified certificates are and how to get them, he explained how certificate-based electronic signatures work and what unintended consequences of using electronic signatures can be.
